

West Los Angeles College and Hollywood CPR
Motion Picture and Television Production Crafts
Program Information

The Motion Picture and Television Production Crafts Program administered in conjunction with Hollywood CPR and West LA College, is a one-of-a-kind, multi-tiered motion picture, television and stagecraft entry-level education training program that covers the entire spectrum of the entertainment industry's career pathways, including crafts often absent from formal learning environments, such as stagecraft, grip, set lighting, set painting, costuming and set dressing, as well as more traditional disciplines such as camera, sound, editing - AVID Certification, and recently added animation, visual effects, gaming and virtual reality (VR). Via face to face and online instruction, qualified students learn these specialized skills from industry professionals who are masters in their trade. Foundational classes focus on the most important and common skills expected of an entry-level worker. The program includes comprehensive life skills coaching and support to promote success in obtaining and maintaining employment along any career pathway. Craft classes function like a real-world production to prepare students for the working conditions they will experience on a film, stage or television show. A West Los Angeles College Certificate of Achievement will be awarded upon successful completion of the program.

The program begins with Introduction to Motion Picture and Television Crafts (FLM PRD 100) and is a required class if you are interested in taking any of the craft classes.

**The next session starts JANUARY 2, 2019 OR FEBRUARY 5, 2019****

Upon successful completion of the prerequisite FLM PRD 100 (Grade C or better), you then take the Production Skills class and the core classes that pertain to your career pathway, then select one of the CRAFT classes.

The entry-level program typically requires 2 years to complete – but can be completed in one year- and includes many components of training designed by IATSE Union (International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees) professionals. The craft classes also bring in industry professionals; many are crew members themselves. This gives you the advantage of learning in an apprentice-style approach.

In order to advance in the program, students must demonstrate excellent attendance, a positive attitude, a passion and desire to work in their craft, respect for the crew and their place in it, and sufficient mastery of the core entry-level skills needed to prosper in their chosen craft.

The rigorous nature of the program offers many rewards beyond the unique opportunity to study entertainment industry crafts with seasoned professionals. Participants will learn how to communicate effectively, to be self-starting, organized and proactive, how to cultivate and maintain support networks, to nurture their creativity and careers, and ultimately, how to succeed.

Enrollment may be limited due to health and safety considerations, as well as the constraints of regional planning or legal requirements imposed by statutes, regulations or contracts. Enrollment may also be limited to students meeting prerequisites and co-requisites and established pursuant to Title 5, sections 55200 and Board Rule 8605.
